PRIORITY AXES / PROJECTS

2.a Priority axes

IPA component I for "Institution Building and Technical Assistance" supports the EU pre-accession strategy for Turkey adopted in the conclusions of the European Council of December 2004. Since the EU has opened accession negotiations with Turkey in October 2005, assistance is focussed increasingly on priority areas that will allow making progress in the negotiations.

The main strategic reference for the national programme in Turkey is the Multi-Annual Indicative Planning Document (MIPD) 2009-2011. It contains four priority axes for this programme: progress towards fully meeting the Copenhagen political criteria, adoption and implementation of the acquis communautaire, promotion of an EU-Turkey Civil Society Dialogue and supporting activities.

The IPA 2010 component I programme includes 38 projects selected among the priorities identified in the 2009-2011 MIPD after analysis of the Turkish authorities and consultation with the Commission, according to the priorities identified in the Accession Partnership, the screening process and ongoing negotiations in the different chapters of the acquis. The main reference documents for the Turkish side were the National Programme for the Adoption of the Acquis, the 9th National Development Plan as well as key sector strategies.

As part of the programming process, only projects that have achieved sufficient readiness for implementation have been accepted. Efforts were made to better focus projects on the political priorities of the accession process as well as on aligning them with sector priorities. The Commission is currently reviewing the priorities to be established for the 2011-2013 period together with Turkey. As part of this process, Turkish authorities have set up sector working groups to review existing strategies and identify sector priorities for financial assistance for the coming years. Based on the results of the working groups and priority areas selected, sectors suitable for a sector approach could be identified in the future.

Priority 1: Progress towards fully meeting the Copenhagen political criteria

This priority axis will include 15 projects and cover approximately 20.64% of the programme's budget and focuses on judicial reform, support to law enforcement services and human rights, being fundamental for Turkey's political reform process. Strong emphasis is given on promoting women's and children's rights through several projects in the education and justice sector. Public administration reform is also supported to strengthen Turkey's strategic management capacity, of crucial importance for future sectoral programming.

Priority 2: Adoption and implementation of the acquis communautaire

This priority axis will include 20 projects and cover approximately 37.31% of the programme's budget and provides assistance to key areas related to negotiation chapters where Turkey is harmonising its legislation and standards with the EU and requires assistance to strengthen its institutional capacity to implement and enforce the acquis communautaire with a particular focus on those areas where the requirements are extensive in terms of legislative alignment and investment needs. Priority areas to be addressed are the Environment chapter (accession negotiations opened in December 2009) Agriculture and Food Safety (accession negotiations on chapter 12 opened in June 2010), Justice, Freedom and Security (Migration/Asylum), Regional Policy, Transport and Energy, Free Movement of Goods and Public Health.

Priority 3: Promotion of an EU-Turkey Civil Society Dialogue

This priority axis will cover approximately 35.46% of the programme's budget and addresses the need for a continuation of the EU-Turkey Civil Society Dialogue in the fields of political criteria and media (1 project) and participation in Union Programmes and Agencies (1 project).

Priority 4: Supporting activities

This priority axis will cover approximately 6.57% of the programme's budget and supports project preparation and capacity building related to the implementation of IPA assistance.

Previously, Turkey has received assistance under the Turkey pre-accession assistance instrument (2002-2006) and from IPA since 2007. Turkey continues to receive bilateral assistance from several EU Member States and international financial institutions.

The financial assistance provided for meeting the political criteria, for the implementation of the acquis communautaire and support to civil society amounts to over EUR 1.5 billion.

Under the political criteria, the promotion of human rights, the rule of law, the protection of vulnerable groups and the situation in the East and the South-East have been addressed through a number of projects aimed at the law enforcement bodies, the judiciary, civil society and in the field of education. Such projects target systemic changes, although the size of the country and the complexity of the issues have, in general, not permitted a definitive solution to identified problems. Mainly resulting from training and awareness raising, the drafting of legislation and preparing of strategies/action plans, but also due to the commissioning of supplies, a number of positive immediate and intermediate impacts have been or are being achieved across this area.

The support for the adoption of the acquis is focussed on areas where Turkey needs to step up its reform efforts to be able to fully adopt and enforce the acquis communautaire, often linked to opening and closing benchmarks in the context of the accession negotiations.

Under component I further development and strengthening of civil society is supported as well as civil society dialogue between Turkey and the EU. Civil society is also increasingly involved as stakeholders in the IPA programming process. Turkey and the EU are closely cooperating to further build on these positive steps.

Lessons learned

In line with the conclusions of a conference held in Brussels in October 2009, which were confirmed by the Member States in the Council conclusions of December 2009, the Commission has taken several steps to improve the effectiveness of the financial assistance and to better align the use of funds with political priorities.

The European Court of Auditors (ECA) concluded in its Special Report on "The European Commission's management of pre-accession assistance to Turkey" that there has been an insufficient direction and lack of specific criteria to determine the priorities of EU assistance and insufficient measurability of achievements given to Turkey between 2002 and 2006. In the same time projects audited had achieved their intended outputs and results were likely to be sustainable. The Commission welcomed the report and recognised a number of weaknesses in the early phases of pre-accession support to Turkey. However a lot of progress has been made, particularly ownership and project design have gradually improved since the introduction of IPA from 2007. The intervention logic has been strengthened and the Multi-Annual Indicative Planning Documents (MIPD) together with the Accession Partnerships now provide strategic orientations and priorities with the aim of helping Turkey to meet the accession criteria. Further improvements are under way and have been applied in this programme, such as:

- Projects selected are more closely linked to sector priorities and strategic orientations and careful consideration of intervention logic and indicators have been taken to improve measurability of project results and objectives.
- Investment projects required detailed needs analysis and maintenance/sustainability provisions while for institution building projects, the capacity and needs of the public administration was thoroughly assessed.
- High attention was paid to project maturity and implementation readiness and where necessary, conditionalities were put in place to ensure that commitments taken by Turkey are delivered upon before assistance becomes available.
- Projects that did not meet the above requirements were deferred for further development and further efforts are under way to strengthen the national management and control systems and to effectively monitor, evaluate and audit implementation.

In September 2009 the "Ad Hoc Evaluation of the European Commission's intervention logic for Financial Assistance in candidate countries and key lessons for MIPD 2010-2012 revision A case study – Turkey" was completed. The evaluation concluded that IPA programming under Component I was focused too much at project level. While most projects were relevant, a comprehensive multi-annual programming was not in place. The MIPDs should advisably be a first step in the direction of establishing a more strategic programming framework and could be further improved to allow for more efficient project selection and sequencing. These recommendations provide a good basis for the revised MIPD for 2011-2013 to be developed in 2010. As a step in this direction, the current programme has taken a more sectoral perspective in the selection of projects, taking into account sector strategies and through a better link of overall objectives and project purpose to sector priorities.

Donor/IFI cooperation

In areas such as the Copenhagen political criteria, social policy, or migration and asylum, the EU pre-accession programme has established fruitful cooperation with a number of UN agencies, as well as with the Council of Europe. When choosing cooperation with international organisations, particular emphasis is put on the justification of the particular experience of an institution and its de facto monopoly position as well as the particular political sensitivity of the supported area.

The EU Delegation in Ankara has set up in 2010 a new framework for coordination among financial and technical cooperation partners around seven thematic groups (Social policy and employment, Competitiveness and economic governance, Development of the private sector, Transport Sustainable development, Governance and Migration, asylum, border management). In the future these groups are expected to be more closely associated to a sector approach for the provision of financial assistance in the relevant areas. Regular meetings are also going to be organised to update on IPA financial implementation with a view to keep EU Member States and international financial institutions fully informed on all financial cooperation issues of interest to them.

2. d Horizontal issues

Horizontal/cross-cutting issues have become an integral part of the programming process (including through the setting of relevant conditions) and as a result of project fiches. Horizontal/cross-cutting issues given particular attention include equal opportunities for men and women, support to minorities and vulnerable groups (including disabled people, children, women), environmental protection, good governance and civil society/stakeholder involvement.

2. e Conditions

Agreement on the 2010 IPA component I programme will depend on the Turkish Government confirming the availability of sufficient resources, including national co-financing, and adequate organisational structures in the decentralised implementation system (DIS) authorities, in particular in the National IPA Coordinator (NIPAC) and Programme Authorising Officer (PAO) offices, to carry out programme monitoring effectively. The capacity of Senior Programme Officers to effectively oversee implementation will be checked by the PAO prior to the implementation of projects.

The PAO will verify that project level conditionalities are respected before contracts are concluded. The National Authorising Officer (NAO) and PAO are committed to maintain the procurement timetables of the projects and will take effective corrective measures in case of delays. The NAO shall inform the Commission on changes to project results or the use of funds after the completion of contracts and following the submission of the final report for the programme. Any infringement of the applicable rules may lead to a review of the eligibility of EU financing provided.

2.g Roadmap for the decentralisation of the management of EU funds without ex ante controls by the European Commission

A Commission Decision establishing conferral of management with ex-ante controls on the IPA Transition Assistance and Institution Building Component was adopted on 29 October 2008, thereby accrediting the Turkish DIS institutions and procedures. The Decision includes a number of recommendations to further improve the management and control system, which are monitored closely by the Commission. The Turkish authorities have in 2009 also prepared a roadmap for full decentralisation of the management of EU funds without ex ante controls by the European Commission. Once the roadmap is implemented and the Commission confirms that the necessary conditions are met, a partial or full waiver of ex ante controls may be considered.

⁵ Joint management project. Co-financing (public and private national /or international contribution or TAIEX)

Principle of Co-Financing applying to the projects funded under the programme

The EU contribution, which represents 63.38 % of the total budget allocated to this programme, has been calculated in relation to the eligible expenditure, which in the case of decentralised management is based on the public expenditure. Joint co-financing will be used as a rule. Co-financing requirements at project level have been complied with for all projects and is detailed in the project fiches.

In the case of grants, final grant beneficiaries should contribute with a minimum of 10 % of the total eligible cost of the project, both for investment and institution building projects. Final grant beneficiaries will finance directly part of the overall project's eligible costs with their co-funding. A minimum of 5% of joint co-financing is required in the case of twinning, in addition to the parallel co-financing required for implementation of contracts in line with the Twinning Manual.

Project TR2010/0136.15 "Protection and provision of basic services to the out-of-the-camp Syrians in Turkey" will be implemented through joint management with the UNHCR, where there is no requirement to provide co-financing and activities can be financed 100% of EU funds. Project TR2010/0324.02 will be implemented through joint management mode with the IOM.

Method of Implementation

This programme shall be implemented by decentralised management (except for projects TR2010/0329.01 to be implemented through centralised management and projects TR2010/0136.15 and TR2010/0324.02 to be implemented under joint management mode, in accordance with article 53c of the Financial Regulation² and the corresponding provisions of the Implementing Rules³. The Beneficiary Country will continue to ensure that the conditions laid down in Art. 56 of the Financial Regulation are respected at all times.
